

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0025] An occurrence description scheme that describes an occurrence of a semantic entity in multimedia content is encoded into a content description for the content. The occurrence description scheme is decoded from the content description and used by an application to search, filter or browse the content when a full structural or semantic description of the content is not required.

2005/03/03